

Scandinavian design in a timeless wooden chair

EFG's wooden chair Zoe has a timeless Scandinavian design that counterbalances the strict with the playful. This neat chair takes its place self-confidently in any room and makes furnishing easy. Zoe is at its best in the lounge, lobby, dining room and meeting room.

Zoe was designed exclusively for EFG by Jonas Forsman. Made entirely of wood, Zoe is a stable chair, even though its slim features make for a svelte, lightweight design. The chair is available in both light and dark models in FSC® certified* oak and ash from responsibly produced forests. The materials grow more beautiful with age and give Zoe long life. Zoe is designed for maximum comfort and movement, and is available unupholstered or upholstered in fabric or leather. It is stackable and easily moved, making it the ultimate design for dynamic workplaces where chairs must often be rearranged quickly.

In keeping with EFG's design philosophy where the focus is on sustainable product development, Zoe is made from renewable materials with a low carbon footprint. Sustainable design solutions such as a moulded shell and thin dimensions also save on materials during manufacture. Zoe is Möbelfakta certified and bears the Nordic Swan eco-label.

ABOUT EFG

The Swedish furniture company EFG has been producing high-quality, durable furniture for more than 135 years. EFG upholds form and function in our Scandinavian heritage and creates smart interior solutions that encourage people to work, meet and socialise. By designing flexible, long-lasting products, EFG drives the development of recyclable furniture and creates beloved products that are designed to last and be cherished. In line with EFG's design philosophy, the products feature a layer-by-layer design that allows components and upholstery to be replaced and repaired, making them easy to update over time.
